1. Host Name: The Wild Center

2. Host Background Information:

   Mission - Ignite an enduring passion for the Adirondacks where people and nature can thrive together and set an example for the world.

   The Wild Center is a not-for-profit organization located on a 31-acre site in the Town of Tupper Lake, NY near the geographic center of the Adirondack Park. The Adirondacks are unique in the world. Surrounded by people, they house great expanses of nature interspersed with small towns and communities. They can be an example for a future where man and the rest of the natural world find better ways to coexist. This new Center, dedicated to understanding this rare place, is committed to helping people explore not a small collection, but one that lives and breathes across the entire expanse of the Adirondacks. The Wild Center is science-based, and its experiences, exhibits and programs are designed to open new ways to look into the latest discoveries made by natural scientists. There may be no more important issue facing humankind than discovering better ways to coexist with the rest of the natural world, and there may be no better place to understand that effort than in the Adirondacks. The Center is the place to see and appreciate the natural side of that vital story. Our yearly visitation is approximately 100,000 – most of whom visit during the busy summer months. We have 35 full time staff and 150 volunteers along with our interns and seasonal staff.

One important aspect includes being provided with free housing along with the other Wild Center interns (within biking distance to the Center). In addition, please note that you will have an earlier start date with this internship, beginning on May 19th, 2014. If this conflicts with your last two days of exams in the spring semester, please notify us ASAP. The Wild Center runs a two week intensive orientation and training program for all its interns during this time and it is important that you attend. You will also have the option of staying a couple weeks past the end of the CALS NYS Internship Program end-date, depending upon when you need to return to campus for the start of classes.
