4-H Poultry & Rabbit Clinic
Tuesday, June 7th from 6–8 p.m.
Cornell Cooperative Extension Cayuga County
Education Center, 248 Grant Avenue, Auburn, NY

CCE Cayuga County will be offering a poultry & rabbit workshop designed to cover basic animal care of these animals. What do they eat? What are their requirements? Which breeds.

We will also be talking about getting ready for show. If you are into this, it is a great time to learn all about it. Showmanship basics will be covered, including how to get your animal ready, how to show your animal, and what you should wear. Come find out more about 4-H Poultry and Rabbit projects.

Youth attending will need to pre-register by Friday, June 3rd. You can register on-line by going to: http://blogs.cornell.edu/ccecayuga. Click on the Registration button OR call the office at 315-255-1183 ext. 238. This workshop will be open to enrolled 4-H youth between the ages of 5 and 18, as of Jan 1st. Cloverbuds will need a parent to stay with them.
