

Electronic Communications

Cornell University expects all members of its community to use electronic communications in a responsible manner. It seeks to enforce its policies regarding harassment and the safety of individuals; to protect the university against seriously damaging or legal consequences; to prevent the posting of proprietary software or the posting of electronic copies of literary works in disregard of copyright restrictions or contractual obligations; to safeguard the integrity of computers, networks, and data, either at Cornell or elsewhere; and to ensure that use of electronic communications complies with the provisions of the Campus Code of Conduct for maintaining public order or the educational environment. The Responsible Use of Electronic Communications Policy provides guidelines in this area. (See <http://www.it.cornell.edu/policies/university/privacy/responsible/>)
