

University Communications (www.universitycommunications.cornell.edu/)

The Division of University Communications includes the Offices of Publications and Marketing, University Photography, Web Communications, Campus Relations, Press Relations, Public Affairs, New York City Communications, Strategic Communications, and the Cornell Chronicle. It assists faculty, staff, and administrators in reaching both internal and external audiences using a wide range of mediums, including print, web, and video, as well as events and other public programs.